DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

1. The supplemental reply filed on April 4, 2005 was not entered because supplemental replies are not entered as a matter of right except as provided by 37 CFR 1.111(a)(2)(ii). The supplemental reply is clearly not limited to placement of the application in condition for allowance. This rule applies to all supplemental replies filed on or after October 21, 2004.

Applicant should note that in view of the non-entry of the amendment filed April 4, 2005, claims 42-44, that were proposed to be entered by applicant have not in fact been entered, nor will they ever be entered unless presented by applicant within the contents of a subsequent proper reply. In other words, a simple request to enter the previously unentered supplemental reply filed April 4, 2005, will not be granted in the manner consistent with After Final/RCE practice.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claims 40 and 41 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claims 40 and 41, applicant refers to "said blades" or "the blades", which is indefinite since it is unclear as to which blades applicant is referring, i.e., "the curved blades" or "the deflector blades".

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

6. Claims 33, 39, and 40 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Sheinman taken together with Reinsch et al.

Sheinman (Figs. 1 and 2) substantially discloses applicant's invention as recited by instant claims 33, 39, and 40, except for the blades in the tray deck being curved and presenting narrowing vapor flow channels through the tray. It is noted that Sheinman clearly teaches a contact tower including a plurality of stacked trays, which is considered to anticipate the subject matter as added by instant claim 40, as broadly recited.

Reinsch et al (Figs. 1-5; col. 2, lines 42-50; col. 3, lines 3-5; col. 4, lines 54-68) disclose an apparatus similar to that of Sheinman, wherein the blades at the tray deck level (see 34 in Fig. 4) are curved to provide a swirl flow to the upflowing vapor stream and to throw liquid droplets contained in the vapor stream outwardly against the can wall (6). It should be noted that the circular arrangement of the vanes at tray level within each of the references provides an angular arrangement such that the vapor flow channels associated therewith are narrowing toward the central axis of the circular vane setup. Wherein Reinsch et al teaches that the curved vanes provide for a maximum swirl effect with a minimum pressure drop there across, it would have been obvious to an artisan at the time of the invention, to modify the shape of the angled vanes of Sheinman, to curved in view of Reinsch et al, since such would provide for an efficient contact between the phases, while reducing the required energy input into the operation thereof.

Allowable Subject Matter

7. Claim 41 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejections under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

8. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 33, and 39-41 have been considered but are moot in view of the new grounds of rejection.

Conclusion

9. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new grounds of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
